

Dear Freegal Music Download Users:

Thank you for being a loyal user of our Freegal Music Download service. Recently the San Bruno Library evaluated our Freegal subscription to determine how much it was being used. We found that it was being used by a very limited number of library patrons. Because of this lack of usage we have decided not to renew our Freegal subscription. This change will be effective immediately.

Though we will miss Freegal, we are excited to announce that we will shortly be offering a new online music service called Rdio. Rather than offering a limited number of users only about eight songs per month like Freegal, Rdio will provide an unlimited number of library users five hours of streaming music per month. Rdio allows you to select the music you want to listen to. In addition, you will find the Rdio music selection much more comprehensive than Freegal with over 9 million songs to choose from. Finally, the Rdio service is being offered at a lower cost to the Library, which is very helpful during these difficult budgetary times.

We expect the Rdio service to be available within the next month. We hope you will try it and let us know what you think!

Sincerely,
Tim Wallace
